Did you know...

- ◆ Residents who inadvertently cause damage (such as fire and water damage) and are not covered for liability exposure could lose their apartment and be held responsible for thousands of dollars in damage.
- ◆ If your apartment should become damaged and you are not insured, you could lose your personal items—furniture, electronics, clothing, etc.—with no opportunity for financial reimbursement.
- ◆ Many apartment residents mistakenly assume that the property owner's insurance policy will cover them, however, that is not the case. Residents must carry their own insurance policy.
